

Superior National Golf Course To Open Mountain 9 on April 26 Two Weekends to Golf and Alpine Ski

Superior National at Lutsen will open the Mountain 9 on Friday, April 26. The Mountain 9 is located adjacent to the Sawtooth Mountains and the scenic slopes of Lutsen Mountains Ski Area, and will be open daily for the season. Early season golf overlaps late season skiing at Lutsen Mountains offering two weekends to golf and ski.

According to Heath Ekstrom, course manager and PGA pro, "We are thrilled to be opening our Mountain 9 in April, especially after the amount of snow we received this winter. This also gives us the unique opportunity to golf and alpine ski on the same weekend! We are continuing to evaluate the conditions on the new Premier 18 (the River and Canyon nines) and will be announcing an opening date for those in the near future."

Early season rates are available through June 16. Tee times can be made online or by calling 218-663-7195.

Please note that the opening day is subject to change according to weather and condition changes. Call ahead to confirm.

Superior National at Lutsen is on the North Shore, overlooking Lake Superior and nestled into the Sawtooth Mountains and the Poplar River Valley. Experience spectacular and untamed natural beauty paired with unparalleled golf. Superior National is a public resort course, named among Minnesota's Top 10 Destination Golf Courses.

$4.6 million in renovations and improvements on the renowned River and Canyon nines are now complete. New features include Ohio's Best white sand, five sets of tees, playable roughs, wider fairways and larger greens. Renowned golf course architect Jeffrey Brauer designed the course to provide an enjoyable and challenging experience for all, from beginners to scratch golfers.
